

I am writing to protest any exceptions to the Indiana Do Not Call list that may be granted. I believe that it is my right to decide who may or may not call me; thus, I believe that it is within my rights to submit my telephone numbers to a list that will prevent unwanted/unsolicited business calls being made to my house. I am further concerned that such unsolicited calls may soon be made to cellular phones, which means that not only would I receive calls I do not wish to receive but I would also have to incur charges for such calls.
